Art Unit: 3735

1. Claims 1, 3-30 are objected to because of the following informalities: In claim 30, line 2, there is more than 1 sentence, a claim can only be in 1 sentence form.

Appropriate correction is required. With respect to claims 1 and 3-29, it appears that the intent of the applicant is to cancel these claims and the claims have been treated as such, however in any response to this action applicant should make clear his intent and if the claims are intended to be cancelled then they should specifically be listed at cancelled and not merely withdrawn.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 2 and 30-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jansen (6,129,083) in view of Burger et al (4,619,271).

Jensen discloses an article of clothing that includes an extension (18) that is inserted into a bodily orifice to secure the device in place. Jensen discloses the claimed device except for a hygienic cover over the extension. Burger et al discloses a device (19) that is inserted into a bodily orifice and teaches that it is well known to use a hygienic cover (19a) with the device to provide for proper hygiene when inserting things into a bodily orifice and prevent any contamination or spread of germs and/or disease. Therefore a modification of Jensen to include a hygienic cover over the extension would have been obvious in view of Burger et al since this would allow for a more hygienic use of the device.

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Hennigan, Osborn, III et al, and Daniel et al are cited to further show the state of the art.
